King Says Bennett Policies Menace Ottawa Conference Liberal Chief Warns Against Surprise Transportation Bill

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Condemns Secret
Sittings Held by Royal Commission Now Investigating Railway Problems of Canada; Says People Suspect Bill May Be Sprung on Parliament in Dying Days of Session; Tells Bennett He Must Not Try to Make C.N.R. a Scapegoat; Liberal Leader Given Enthusiastic Reception at Banquet in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Jan. 13.—That the Liberal Party of Canada, if returned to power to-morrow,
would restore the tariff levels
which were in effect when it went out of office, that the Bennett Government must change its policy on intra-empire and international trade or there will be no chance of success at the coming Economic Conference, and that Liberalism will stand like a rock against every "proposition,"
"however camouflaged," which would destroy the independence
and integrity of the Canadian National Railway system are declarations of Rt. Hon. W. L.
Mackenzie King in a new statement of the policies of the party
he leads.

Mr. King, condemning the high protectionist policy of the present administration, urged action by members of Parliament with a view to securing modification by the government of its position on the tariff in order that the coming Economic Conference at Ottawa may not prove the "fiasco"
which that of 1930 in London was.
The Liberal leader addressed a large audience at the banquet here yesterday evening which marked the close of the annual meeting of the Manitoba Liberal Association. An enthusiastic reception was accorded him,
and at the conclusion of the meeting
he was the central figure at an informal gathering where hundreds of those present were introduced.
His speech, first of the new year,
contained strong criticism of the Bennett government on the grounds of waste and extravagance in the conduct of unemployment relief. He demanded why a tariff board had not been appointed. At a time of fluctuating exchanges and depreciated currencies such a board would have been valuable. The legislation had been passed at the last session.

INDIAN KILLED BY LOCOMOTIVE

Henry George Run Over on E. and N. Railway Track
Near Duncan

Special to The Times
Duncan, Jan. 13.—Harry George, an Indian, thirty-six, and unmarried,
was instantly killed shortly before midnight yesterday when he was run over by a freight train of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway. The man was lying across the rails on the railway bridge across the Cowichan River, one mile south of Duncan, and was badly cut and crushed.
Members of the train crew reported that they had been unable to see the man on the track until too late. George had removed his hat and coat, which were later found beside the track. He was wearing a white shirt and the blanket of snow made it difficult to see him.
George had spent the afternoon and evening in Duncan, and was returning to his home on the Quichman Reserve.
An inquest will be held by Dr. H. P.
Swan, coroner, to-morrow afternoon
at 1 o'clock.

BANK OF FRANCE TO RENEW LOAN

Paris, Jan. 13.—The best available
information to-day was that the Bank of France will renew its one-fourth share of 10,000,000 international short-term credit to Germany when it expires next month. At the bank it was said to-day the council of regents
might take action on the renewal question to-morrow.

NO U.S. OBSERVER AT LAUSANNE

Washington, Jan. 13.—Secretary
Stimson to-day said he did not expect to send a United States observer
to the Lausanne Reparations Conference this month.

UNDER FIRE AS JAPANESE TOOK MUKDEN

Ting Supao of Northwestern University Was in Line
of Fire as Garrison Destroyed

Got Away From Manchuria
Capital Five Days After Occupation; University Closed
direct from Mukden, where he was under fire from the Japanese guns. Ting Supao, professor of physics at the Manchurian capital
and a Fellow of the China Foundation and Culture, reached Victoria to-day aboard the liner President
Cleveland, inbound from the Far East.
In occupying Mukden on September 18 the Japanese forces fired heavy guns over the Northeastern University campus in getting the range on the Chinese garrison and the barracks
buildings were set on fire and completely destroyed. The students of the university, of which there are over one thousand in normal times, sensed
their danger and under the terrific cannonading they hurriedly vacated
the buildings, which were directly in the line of fire.

HAIL THE SHELLS
The university buildings, which are
of a splendid type of modern architecture and the great Stadium capable of seating 30,000 people, escaped damage, although shells were falling peri-ously near as the Japanese gunners got the range of the garrison buildings.
It was nearly midnight when the Japanese troops arrived on the outskirts of the city and the burning barracks cast a lurid glow over the sky for many miles around, while the bursting of the shells caused excitement akin to panic.
"Being right in the line of fire, we were naturally a little scared," said
Mr. Supao, in relating the circumstances of the attack.

GORDON FAWCETT HUNTED TO-DAY

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 13.—Following a report that a man believed to be Gordon Fawcett, one of the two Okalla jail
breakers still at liberty, had been seen
at Gibson's Landing, Game Warden
Douglas Buchanan of Sechart has left to investigate.
Police in Vancouver were informed that a man resembling Fawcett had reached Gibson's Landing in a row-boat several days ago. He was in an exhausted condition and occupied a deserted house.
No trace has been found of William Bagley, alleged leader of the jail break. Search is continuing in the state of Washington, where he was reported sighted at Burlington, east of Anacortes, but police admit the trail has grown cold.

famous banker of New York. It

powers in pulling off the gold

Report France Buys Much Canadian Wheat Is Denied

Paris, Jan. 13.—Canadian officials
here have denied a published report
that France had agreed to buy 20,000-000 bushels of wheat from Canada.
In other quarters it was said France
was buying foreign wheat in small amounts monthly, but that extensive orders were not likely to be placed before spring, when the French crop will be used up. Average monthly purchases from Canada in 1931 were 2,000-000 bushels. Meantime strict regulations are being applied to all wheat imports, and the proportion of foreign wheat used is not more than 15 per cent.

No Truce Indicated As Government Gets Ready For Session

Vigorous Criticism of Tolmie Unemployment and Other Policies Forecast as Premier Announces
Opening Date of B.C. Legislature for February 17;
Little Hope of Short Session as Financing, University, Municipality Grant Cuts and New Taxes
Indicate Stormy Discussions

On February 17 the British Columbia Legislature will enter upon what will possibly be, despite all reports to the contrary,
one of the stormiest and most protracted sessions in recent years.

With the announcement of the opening date by Premier Tolmie yesterday there was talk of a five-week session, which would permit the legislators to return to their homes for the Easter holidays. With the mass of contentious business to come before the House many observers anticipate that, while the Easter period may prove a welcome break in a strenuous session, there is little chance of prorogation at that time.

FIFTH TERM
It will be the first time since 1916
that a fourth session has not been the last session of a government in power.
It is generally accepted now the Tolmie government will hold one more session after the coming one before calling a general election. Party opponents claim that it is the unpopularity of the government, the difficulties it has found itself in through its much criticized methods of financing and handling of unemployment problems and internal strife
which have led it to hold on to the reins of office as long as possible.
Premier Tolmie thinks his government needs more time to carry out policies formulated and that a change
would be disrupting at this time.

STORM CLOUDS
There is little indication the olive branch which Conservatives have held out unofficially has been accepted by the opposition. Liberals have shown a disposition to doubt the sincerity of the government's plea for co-operation in the past, emphasizing how the rumping majority has always been used to its own advantage. No need,
they point out, was paid to frequent warning on methods of financing and growing expenditures, and only the reins of office which, in the main,
they claim the government has brought on its own head, has led them
in desperation to seek a truce at this time.

NEED FOR CRITICISM
T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition, was out of town to-day, but it is understood that he holds the view
that there is more need for a strenuous opposition at this time than at any other. Members of the opposition, he has said, have at all times been ready to co-operate and have at no
time withheld advice or suggestions
they believe to be in the best interests of the province. In this respect, they claim, the Liberal party has been far more generous in helping the government to face its present unemployment problem than were Conservatives
when the Liberal government faced the greater problem of re-establishing in civilian life the thousands of

THREE-DAY WEEK FOR MAYOR OF TERMINAL CITY

Vancouver, Jan. 13.—Mayor Louis
D. Taylor has gone on a "three-day

tal to the city hall. He was scheduled to attend a meeting of the civic finance committee this afternoon.

ONTARIO SOON TO FLOAT LOAN

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 13.—The Ontario
Government is considering the floating of an internal loan of not more than $20,000,000. Hon. E. A.
Dunlop, Provincial Treasurer, made
the announcement to-day.
"The cabinet has considered this matter internally, but has made no arrangements," he said. "The exact amount of the loan has not been decided on, but it will not be more than $20,000,000 and will be kept wholly in Canada. We do not know when the bonds will be placed on the market, but expect it will be in the near future."

LIMITS ARE SET FOR INDIA NEWSPAPERS

Government Warns Against Publication of Messages From Imprisoned Nationalists

Bombay, Jan. 13.—The government to-day issued all newspapers that publication of messages from imprisoned Nationalists, exaggerated reports of political events, immoderate criticism of the government, or photographs of Congress Party activities
would bring penalties up to two years imprisonment and heavy fines.
Police at Allahabad took over the Congress Party headquarters building today, hauled down the party flag and raised the Union Jack.

MISS SLADE'S APPEAL
Ahmedabad, India, Jan. 13.—Miss Madeline Slade, daughter of a British airman, made a plea to Indian Nationalists to-day to carry on the civil disobedience campaign of Ma-hata Gandhi.
"Now that Gandhi's voice is silenced
behind prison walls," she said, "it is all the more sacred duty to carry out his dearest wish—spinning and wearing homespun."
Indians had fulfilled this wish previously, she argued, Gandhi would not now be in prison. "If the whole nation were homespun," she said, "we would have had strength and unity
such as would have made it impossible for the British to have piled insults
on our heads."
"We must repent and mend our ways. It is better and cheaper to wear homespun cloth, made by our brothers and sisters, than to exist under foreign domination with clothes, however fine and cheap."

Before he was arrested, the Ma-hata instructed Miss Slade, known now as Mira Behn, to do nothing to warrant being put in prison herself.
For this reason, up to now, she had confined herself chiefly to spinning and quiet work among the inmates of Gandhi's institution here.

TO START SOON ON ESTIMATES

Mayor Orders First Drafts
Before Council in Two Weeks

Within two weeks the City Council will get down to work on the 1932
estimates, it was announced by Mayor Leeming this morning, following a conference with Alderman P. R. Brown, finance committee chairman, and D.
A. Macdonald, city comptroller.

The mayor issued orders that the first drafts of the revenue estimates
must be ready for consideration at that time. When these are cleared out of the way the council will start on the expenditure side of the budget.
In view of the Mayor's forecast at the council meeting Monday that the tax rate might not be struck until well into the month of May, the size of the task facing the council can be judged.
One of the main factors in connection with the estimates of revenue will be the section of the provincial government in regard to its grants from liquor profits, pari-mutuels, for teachers and other items. While indication has been received on some of these matters to show the reductions that are planned, a full idea of the position is not obtainable. In any case the city is joining with other municipalities in the province protesting against proposed cuts in the grants.

BOLTON BEATEN IN CUP SOCCER

Drop 5 to 2 Decision to Preston North End in English
Football Replays

London, Jan. 13.—Soccer fans in England were to-day treated to eight replays from the third round of the English Football Association Cup competition. Winners, who will enter the fourth round, are:
Bristol City, Preston, North End, Chelsea, Huddersfield Town, Newcastle United, The Wednesday, Sunderland and Portsmouth.
Tranmere Rovers shocked Chelsea at Stamford Bridge by running in two quick goals, but the Pensioners ultimately won out by 5 to 3. Whitehurst and Watts netted for the Rovers in the opening phase of the game, the latter after a penalty. Pearson scored for Chelsea just before half time. Chelsea were a different team in the second half. Gallagher, Mills, Jackson and Law all scored in quick succession,
the last-named from a penalty kick.
Whitehurst had Tranmere's third marker from a penalty kick.

Nearly 30,000 fans saw Bolton Wanderers defeat their own goals to go down
to defeat, before Preston North End
5 to 2. Gibson put the Wanderers ahead in the ninth minute but Crawford and Bargh replied to put Preston in the lead at half time. Harper, Bargh and Wagstaffe goalied for Preston in the second half, Wagstaffe putting the ball through his own goal.
Blackmore netted for Bolton in the dying moments of the match.

Huddersfield Town had an easy time
as home against Oldham Athletic,
their star, Mangnall, getting four goals
of the six secured by the winners. Oldham made no reply. McLean and Luke had Huddersfield's other two goals.
Newcastle United won a closely-contested game at St. James Park from Blackpool by Boyd's goal in the second half. Goals by Millerships in the first half and Rimmer and Stephenson in the second enabled The Wednesday to eliminate Tottenham Hotspurs from the competition at Sheffield. Hunt goalied for the Londoners from a penalty kick after the interval.

LAVAL TRIES TO FORM NEW GOVERNMENT

French Premier, Who Resigned Yesterday, Returns to Task at President's Request

Little Time to Be Lost as Conference Dates Are Approaching

Canadian Press
Paris, Jan. 13.—Pierre Laval, whose cabinet resigned yesterday
evening, to-night accepted from President Doumer a mandate to form a new government.
The President sent for him this evening.
Before the summons came he said
if the President should ask him to do so he would undertake to put a new cabinet together and thought he could do so before the night was over.

TIME IS VALUABLE
Paris, Jan. 13.—Experienced observers of French politics predicted that a new cabinet, much like the one which resigned yesterday, would be announced
cause of the pressing importance of the reparations conference at Lausanne
and the disarmament conference at Geneva, both little more than two weeks away.
In case the cabinet should undergo little change, however, the names of former Premiers Andre Tardieu and Paul Painleve were mentioned for the post of Minister of War, and either Premier Laval himself or Senator Paul-Boncour as successor of M. Briand as Foreign Minister.

CHINA REPLIES TREATY NOTE OF UNITED STATES

Nanking, Jan. 14.—China is ready to co-operate with the United States in upholding the Nine-Power Treaty, it is declared in the Chinese reply to the recent United States note invoking that treaty in the Far East.
The Foreign Minister handed the government's answer to the United States consul-general yesterday evening.
It expressed the hope all the signatories will translate the treaty into substantial fact and that the United States will take further steps to uphold it.

TRAPPER HOLDS POSSE AT BAY

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Jan. 13.—High explosive bombs and a spirited force maintained
by an attacking force of eight men for fifteen hours have failed to disclose
Albert Johnson, Arctic trapper, sought
for the shooting of R.C.M.P. Constable
A. W. King from his cabin stronghold
on the old Yukon trail, eighty miles from Alkali.

This was the word flashed to-day to Superintendent A. E. Acland of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police here
from Inspector A. N. Eames at Alkali.
Inspector Eames had headed the posse
which left Alkali eight days ago,
purposing to arrest Johnson.

WINNIPEG SUNDAY MOVIES TO AID JOBLESS ARE VETOED

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 13.—The proposal to hold Sunday moving picture shows in Winnipeg, with the revenue to be used for relief of unemployed, has been dropped. Mayor Ralph H. Webb to-day said opposition to the plan had been expressed by so many citizens that he doubted if even the financial returns
would be worth while.

Collections were to be taken at the theatres, four of which would put on shows "Sunday evenings" after the church services were over.

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 13.—Blizzards
had ended on the prairies to-day
and the bitter cold wave of the season settled down on Saskatchewan and Alberta to take their place.

Temperatures in Alberta were lower than during the height of the three-day storm that ended
with a wild burst of fury yesterday evening.

At Drumheller, Alta., coldest city
on the prairies, a minimum thermometer reading of 22 below zero was reported and other reports in the province ranged from 19 below at Lethbridge to 15 below at Medicine Hat.
In Saskatchewan, where one death
resulted from the blizzard, high drifted snow and low temperatures
prevailed in the storm's wake.
Eighteen-year-old Lester Taylor was frozen to death Monday evening when he was caught in the blizzard, the body being found yesterday not 100 yards from his home at Glen Allen.

SASKATCHEWAN PEOPLE SHIVER
It was 16 below zero at Swift Current, Sask., to-day and 7 below at Regina and Saskatoon, 10 below at Moose Jaw and 6 below at Battleford,
in the north.
A general milder in this province,
the cold wave settled on the western section. It was 2 below at Minnedosa and 6 above here.
Chicago, Jan. 13.—Weather lines of the United States were drawn irregularly to-day, with tornadoes claiming a toll of life and property in the south
and blizzards whirling through the Rocky Mountain region.
It was six below zero at Grace Falls,
Montana, yesterday evening. Ranchers hardly range stock to safety. Wyoming authorities to-day warned against unnecessary motor travel. Air traffic was curtailed.
Colder weather was the immediate prospect for the Middle West, with the Dakotas in the van. Northwestern
North Dakota was hit by a blizzard,
residents described as the most severe
in two years. It was zero in Minn.
Rain and snow fell along the Pacific Slope.

MORE COLD BUT NO SKATING YET

Eleven Degrees of Frost This Morning and Another Cold
Night Here Forecast
Continued cold for a few days,
but with a gradual moderation to normal, was the weather forecast
from Gonzales Hill Observatory
this morning, on the occasion of this season's initial cold snap and the first for two years. Eleven degrees of frost were registered during the night and it is expected
there will be the same amount or possibly a little more this evening.
Bright sunshine, however, featured
Victoria weather to-day.

The lowest temperature during the last twenty-four hours was 21 degrees
above zero, registered on the official scale at the observatory. On the grass, it was 17 degrees above. The ice in the official tank on top of the hill had a thickness of one inch. The wind this morning was blowing down from the north, but not strongly, and unless it increases its velocity, Victoria will not suffer a cold spell. In the Yukon, where the present cold spell has its origin, it is not unusually cold for this time of the year. Dawn being only 6 or 8 degrees below zero.
There is no extreme cold anywhere in the Far North.

PONDS FROZEN
Small ponds around Victoria, flooded
by the heavy rains over the week-end,
were frozen this morning and crowds of small boys and girls, and a lot of older people, armed with hockey sticks
and pucks, were seen skating and playing hockey this afternoon. The deeper ponds, however, and the lakes about
the city were not frozen, and there is little possibility of any skating on them yet. Pools on roadways and flooded fields and backyards were covered with ice this morning. There was thin ice on the pond in Beacon Hill Park and hundreds of young people
made pilgrimages to the park to-day
after school to report on hopes of skating.

ZERO AT PRINCE GEORGE
Prince George was the coldest spot
in British Columbia this morning. It was zero there. Prince Rupert reported 18 degrees above and Kamloops 4 above. At Vancouver at 8 o'clock this morning it was 19 degrees. There was bright sunshine and a cloudless sky
also in Vancouver. Even in California

CHINESE BANDS FIGHT JAPANESE

Canadian Press
Tientsin, China, Jan. 13.—According to Chinese newspapers here, commenting on a transfer of Japanese troops from Tientsin back to Shanghai, said the situation around Chinchow is growing acute for the Japanese and Chinese volunteer militia bands "all over Manchuria" are renewing "warfare."
These village militia units, the reports say, have declared they are determined to fight the Japanese to the end and on several occasions recently they have been spurred by successes in surrounding and practically wiping out small Japanese garrisons. According to one story they took sixty Japanese prisoners in an encounter.
The new groups, these reports say, are demanding the Nanking government and Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang give them assistance.
New complications also have arisen, it is said, out of the Japanese attempt to invade Jehol province following the occupation of Chinchow. The Japanese consul-general here issued a warning to Gen. Wang Shu-chang, chief of the Heilung provincial government, against continuation of the anti-Japanese boycott, declaring that if it should be continued, the Japanese military information bureau would hold up Japanese goods valued at at least $5,000,000 in gold.
Chinese dispatches from Harbin, Manchuria, said Japanese planes dropped six bombs on the town of Finghsien, where the provincial government of Heilungkiang province is located, killing twenty persons and damaging government buildings.

SCIENTISTS USING SUBMARINES TO FIND EARTHQUAKE CAUSES

By F. B. COLTON
Associated Press Science Writer
Washington, Jan. 13.—Tracking down earthquakes in a submarine, a scientist has decided they originate in giant submerged "cracks" thousands of miles long, where the earth's crust is buckling inward.
Dr. F. A. Venning Meinesz of Holland maintains earthquakes and the upheaving of mountain ranges are only symptoms of far more powerful forces deep in the earth that have split open these "cracks." He gave his views yesterday evening at the annual meeting of the Washington Academy of Sciences.
Dr. Meinesz, like a character out of Jules Verne, has traveled 50,000 miles under the seven seas in submarines, plotting the course of the cracks, and measuring changes in the force of gravity.
The places where the earth is buckling, he said, are 5,000 miles long. Another runs near the Pacific Islands of Guam and Yap and third passes north of Haiti and Porto Rico.
This winter, he and other scientists intend to trace this third "crack" westward. They believe it may cross through Mexico, perhaps connecting with another already located off the California coast.
The inward buckling of the earth's crust may result from cooling and shrinking of the earth's interior, causing the "skin" to wrinkle like that of a shriveled apple, he says, or it may be caused by gradual "drifting" of the continents across the surface of the globe, with resulting changes in pressure at different points.

CHURCH EVENT POLICE CHANGES IN EDMONTON IN HONOLULU

Anglican Cathedral Crowded During Consecration of Archdeacon Burgett as Bishop

Edmonton, Jan. 13.—Before the most distinguished gathering of Anglican clergy ever assembled in this city, prelates present from the three provinces, Bishop of Calgary, M. A. Burgett, M. A. D. D., was consecrated Bishop of the Diocese of Edmonton at an impressive service in All Saints' Cathedral this morning.
Archbishop I. O. Stringer of Rupert's Land was the officiating prelate. Four visiting dignitaries who either took part in or attended the service were Bishop of Toronto, the Right Rev. Harding of Qu'Appelle, Bishop Hallam of Saskatchewan and Rt. Rev. R. J. Renison, newly-consecrated Bishop of Athabasca.
A crowd of 700 people taxed the seating capacity of the cathedral to witness the colorful ceremony, second of its kind to be seen in an Anglican church in this city.
Among the distinguished guests were Hon. W. L. Walsh, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, and Mrs. Walsh; Mayor D. K. Knott and Mrs. Knott, Rev. Canon Gould of Toronto, general secretary of the Missionary Society of the Anglican Church in Canada; Dean Robinson of Calgary and Dean W. A. R. Kerr of the University of Alberta. Some forty members of the clergy of the Edmonton diocese were present and took part in the procession before and after the consecration.

GAS TAX RISE DRAWS FIRE

Vancouver, Jan. 13.—Surprise and disappointment at the Vancouver Publicity Bureau had not joined other city organizations in recording formal objection to proposals to increase the gasoline tax in British Columbia, which was expressed yesterday evening at a protest meeting by J. J. Kahn, president of the British Columbia Hotel Association.
Sharp criticism of the bureau's policy as announced by O. B. Allan and J. C. McPherson, was voiced by Mr. Kahn at a meeting in the Hotel Vancouver, which resulted in the passage of a resolution drawing attention of the government to the fact that the tax would be a burden on the people.

JAIL OFFICIAL'S DAUGHTER SLAIN

Collins walked a half mile to the prison and surrendered.
Members of the Hickok family, in the house at the time of the killing, did not know of it until informed by prison officials.

CONFIDENCE IS BUSINESS NEED

Kellogg Company Head Sure
of Canada's Ability to Weather Depression

London, Ont., Jan. 13.—Confidence in Canada's ability to break through the cycles of deflation and put business on the upgrade and confidence in each other in business dealings were urged today by W. K. Kellogg, founder and president of the Kellogg Company, leading cereal manufacturers.

"This past year closes the Kellogg Company's twenty-fifth anniversary with an unbroken record of progress, regardless of the several cycles of deflation through which the country has passed," said Mr. Kellogg. "Although we have adapted our business to the changing conditions, we are adhering steadily to the basic policies that have governed our actions in times of both prosperity and depression. This fact, I believe, is largely responsible for the satisfactory condition in which we find our business today."

HAVE CONFIDENCE

"We always have believed that all of the people with whom we deal should know our policies of doing business so that they might have complete confidence in our prices and in our methods. Business dealings should be based upon such confidence, and advertisers should not be permitted to destroy this confidence, for under existing conditions there is even greater need for it than ever before."

"The return to prosperity undoubtedly would be greatly hastened if suspicions of the other fellow could be buried and confidence fully restored between manufacturers, the trade and consumers alike."

ADVERTISING FACTOR

Much of the credit for the continuation of the Kellogg Company's unbroken record of a quarter century of steady advances is due to the judicious use of newspaper advertising, said Mr. Kellogg. Full advantage of the flexibility permitted by this medium which may be used generally or concentrated in certain sections or whenever the need seems to be the greatest. This method has proven profitable and will be continued even more aggressively in 1932, he added.

At the same time, the Kellogg Company has provided an outstanding example of industrial adjustment to the new economic conditions. The six-hour working day, adopted by Kellogg's slightly more than a year ago, is an established success from the standpoint of both increased employment and more economic production. Approximately 400 new, permanent jobs were created by the Kellogg plan and, even with the increased wages it provided, the system has been profitable.

"The Kellogg Company will start 1932 with a more aggressive advertising plan, without any change in basic policies, and is looking forward to a greater business than that we enjoyed during 1931," declared Mr. Kellogg.

Winnipeg Council Looks Into Street Railway Dispute

Winnipeg, Jan. 13.—Winnipeg today was free of the threat of an immediate tie-up of its street railway system through a strike on the wage question. The company and the men were awaiting an investigation of the dispute by the city council.

Late yesterday, Mayor Ralph H. Webb acted as mediator at what was announced as the final negotiation conference between officials of the Winnipeg Electric Company and the Street Railwaymen's Union. Notice a strike would be called within twenty-four hours was to have been given following the meeting if no agreement was reached.

Company officials attending the conference agreed the ten per cent wage reduction, objected to by the men, was a thousand employees, would not go into effect until both sides of the dispute had been investigated by the city council.

The employees voted 5 to 1 in favor of going on strike in a referendum taken last Thursday. They were to have walked out Saturday, but city and Dominion Government officials took action that resulted in a reopening of the negotiations, stopped when the men's union refused to accept the majority report of a conciliation board which favored the wage cut.

U.S. Man Hanged At Belfast To-day

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Jan. 13.—Eddie Cullen, young naturalized United States citizen, was hanged here at 8 o'clock today for the slaying of Achmet Musa, a Turk, who was engaged in promotion work for the aged Zang Agha, who claimed to be one of the oldest men in the world.

Ever since he was convicted friends of Cullen in the United States and elsewhere had made strenuous efforts to secure a modification of the sentence. The Ulster cabinet considered the case and the Governor, the Duke of Abercorn, said he saw no reason why a reprieve should be granted. At last yesterday evening the cabinet considered a last minute appeal from the Jewish community, but the ministers decided the plea did not warrant a reprieve.

The young man was in good spirits, preserved a philosophic calm, smoked incessantly and regaled warders at the jail with stories of Hollywood and New York, where he once worked as a film projector.

SOVIET COAL MAY COME HERE

Trade of Canadian Aluminum
For Russian Anthracite Is Planned

Deal Would Greatly Increase
Employment in Canadian Industry

Montreal, Jan. 13.—The Star today says: "Widespread interest has been aroused by the news that negotiations are in progress, which, if successful, would mean the exporting of roughly $5,000,000 worth of Canadian aluminum and aluminum products to Russia and the receipt of $2,000,000 worth of Soviet coal in part return."

"In Ottawa, where the matter was first mooted before Christmas, the proposal was felt to impinge upon interests likely to be pressed in the forthcoming Imperial conference, as well as upon Canadian interests. It was understood in Ottawa that increased employment in Canada was one of the chief inducements offered in the coal-for-aluminum proposal, and the number of added employees promised was placed at around 1,200."

"It also indicated that Russia can take no less than 60 per cent of Canada's entire aluminum output in a normal year when the plants are operating at 100 per cent. Inquiry in Montreal reveals that Canadian coal interest would not be as much affected as North British by the threat of Russian competition, if at all. But in view of that British likely to see preferred position for her anthracite in the Canadian market, it is extremely unlikely that Canada would do anything to prejudice the position of Welsh and British coal here."

CHARTER BURIED BY "FREE CITY"

Associated Press
Tampico, Mexico, Jan. 13.—The charter of the "Free City" of Panuco, the roaring oil camp of a decade ago, was buried today after a "funeral" ceremony as a protest against appointment of a city mayor by the state government.

The burial ceremony, during which the charter was placed in a coffin, carried to the cemetery and lowered into a grave, followed a solemn barbecue for former Mayor Roscha, who was declared elected by the people, but was supplanted by the state government of a city mayor by the state government.

The coffin containing the charter was carried on the shoulders of four men to the cemetery. A lone man with his hands tied, representing the people, preceded it. Wreath-bearers followed.

Canada's Geneva Group To Sail On January 22

Delegates to Disarmament
Conference to Voyage
From New York Aboard
Liner Europa

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—The Canadian delegates to the International Disarmament Conference at Geneva, called to start February 2, have arranged to sail from New York today aboard the liner Europa.

This will enable them to reach Geneva at the same time as the delegation from Great Britain.

It has been considered advisable the delegates from the several countries of the British Empire meet in advance of the main conference sessions. In order to take part in this preliminary discussion the Canadian representatives have set the time of their departure from here for New York as January 20 or 21.

L. B. Pearson, first secretary of the External Affairs Department, and Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, C.M.G., D.S.O., chief of the general staff, will accompany the delegation as technical advisers.

The personnel of the delegation was announced yesterday by Premier Bennett.

"I appreciate most highly the honor of representing Canada at the world disarmament conference," Sir George Perley declared in a brief interview. "We will certainly do our best to bring about that disarmament which we all so anxiously desire. We have it here in Canada. I cannot put our views too strongly."

"Naturally I am much pleased with those named as my colleagues, Hon. Maurice Dupre (Solicitor-General of Canada) and Miss Kydd," Sir George added. "We will do our best. That is all we can promise."

SUPPORT FOR MISS KYDD

Miss J. A. Wilson, president of the National Council of Women of the years up until last year, when Miss Kydd was elected president, spoke in most flattering terms of Miss Kydd's capabilities. "I consider Miss Kydd's appointment a most excellent one, not only because as president of the National Council of Women which is so representative of the Canadian women's organizations, but because of her personal charm and accomplishments," Mrs. Wilson stated. "I have known Miss Kydd for several years. She is an excellent linguist, and in every way as capable as any delegate could be."

The British delegation to the conference will be headed by Premier MacDonald and the Australian delegation by Hon. J. G. Latham, Attorney-General. Mr. Latham is now on his way to Geneva via the Suez Canal. The Irish Free State, South Africa and New Zealand have not yet announced their representatives.

FINANCE MINISTRY

He asked why the country was still without a Minister of Finance and stressed the gravity of the financial situation and the necessity for a strong, capable leader in financial matters. The Prime Minister, overburdened as he was, appeared unwilling to trust the important office of Finance Minister to a member of the Conservative Party, or, on the other hand, suggested Mr. King, it might be that not a single member of the Conservative Party can be found who is ready to accept office under him."

The Liberal leader referred to the fact that the last occasion on which he had spoken in Winnipeg was in the mid-summer of 1930. At that time the country was in the throes of an election campaign. The day on which he had addressed a Winnipeg audience was July 15, a day which was memorable in the history of Manitoba, and on that occasion, Mr. King recalled, he had the privilege, as Prime Minister of Canada, of transferring from the surplus revenues of the federal treasury a cheque of over $14,500,000 to the Premier of this province. That payment was made in final settlement of all that remained of the difference in the transfer to the provinces from federal control of its natural resources, and as a sign and symbol of the consummation of that great transaction."

"It was a cheque," remarked Mr. King, "made payable, not out of borrowed money, but, as all federal government cheques were during the eight and a half years of Liberal administration, out of money in hand, generated by the surplus of the federal treasury."

Mr. King stated that the position taken by Conservative members in the House of Commons at that time was that trade was war and that a "red-blooded attitude" was likely to be much more beneficial in the end. The Liberal Party recognized the prosperity of the country and the fact that the surplus of the federal treasury was particularly designed to promote international trade.

COOL HEADEDNESS NEEDED

Briefly reviewing the position of Canada just prior to the last general election, Mr. King stated that the position taken by Conservative members in the House of Commons at that time was that trade was war and that a "red-blooded attitude" was likely to be much more beneficial in the end. The Liberal Party recognized the prosperity of the country and the fact that the surplus of the federal treasury was particularly designed to promote international trade.

"We have, sometimes heard it said there was little or no difference between the old parties in matters of the tariff. That myth at least is at last exploded," continued Mr. King. "The Liberal record with respect to the tariff was of gradual but very substantial reduction in the rates of duty from year to year. The two years of the present administration have been characterized by an all-round, precipitous, perpendicular increase in the rates of duty. To what heights further changes, regulations and valuations may yet take us Heaven alone knows."

TRADE IS TWO SIDED

"There can be no such thing as free trade," the Liberal leader asserted. "A country that wishes to sell to another must buy from another."

He referred to the importance of the 1930 Imperial Conference in respect to Canada's trade. He asked his listeners if they thought the choice of the Canadian people had been wise when they chose Mr. Bennett as their representative to the gathering. Mr. Bennett and his ministers had prefaced their attendance at the conference by sweeping away the "last vestige of preference granted to the British Empire."

"They had actually raised the duties on goods imported from Great Britain and other parts of the empire, in some instances to the point of exclusion."

ATTITUDE OF BENNETT

"What was a more arrogant and dictatorial and impossible attitude assumed by any representative of a country at a great inter-imperial gathering than that assumed by Canada's Prime Minister after his arrival in London?" asked Mr. King. "To avoid the use of a stronger term, and to use one which is authoritative, was anything more in the way of 'sweeping away' the last vestige of preference granted to the British Empire?"

"The Prime Minister has already been given."

MUST FACE FACTS

"From the Liberal point of view, economic nationalism and economic imperialism are both wrong, and we might as well state the matter plainly, and face the issue boldly," said Mr. King. "If economic nationalism is to be the inspiration and objective of our policies, we might as well abandon at once all thoughts of world trade, and expect instead to incur, in our international relations, the enmity of every other nation on earth, not excepting the nations of the British Commonwealth, which includes Britain itself. Equally, if the inspiration and objective of our policies are to be an economic imperialism—an enlarged economic isolation, only more resurgent with dangers from within and from without—we may expect to find very much in the way of strife and discord between the different nations of the British Commonwealth, and at the same time a world situation greatly aggravated by the contending economic units of a scale hitherto unparalleled."

PLAIN SPEAKING NEEDED

"The time, as I have said, has come to speak plainly. I think the time has come when it is necessary to regulated thereafter on a quota basis, which will be of substantial advantage to Canada. When we know exactly the terms, conditions and amounts of this quota we shall be able to speak to its advantages. If, however, as now alleged, the quota is to be of real value to Canada, why may I ask, was it not secured in 1930, when, as we have great reason to know, the British Government was considering the matter and was prepared to do so favorably? Why has it not been in existence since the year 1930, as it well might have been, instead of being, 1932, still a matter for consideration, but with nothing of certainty, many months hence?"

A great opportunity had been lost for two years, the Liberal leader said, whether or not it had been lost for all time, no one at the moment could say.

BENNETT'S PROMISES

The pledges on which he stated Mr. Bennett had attained office were then referred to by Mr. King. He pointed out that the Liberal Party had promised to "blast a way into the markets that have been closed to you." He had also promised to end unemployment.

"Have the promises been fulfilled?" asked the speaker. "They were made in the summer of 1930. We are now in the year 1932. Surely Mr. Bennett himself will not deny the times are hard and that thousands are still unemployed. What then, according to his own criterion, is to be said of the manner in which his government has been functioning since it took office?"

Mr. Bennett had stressed two policies in the first year of his administration. One was protection. The other was "reckless expenditure." Both policies offered by him had proved wrong, said Mr. King. The determination of the Prime Minister to persist in them was making conditions infinitely worse than they had been. The policy of protection, applied as it had been, "has resulted in the stifling of trade and the ruin of many businesses."

WHAT HE PROMISED

The Prime Minister would say that in raising tariffs and making "vast expenditures" from the public treasury, he was fulfilling his promise, declared Mr. King, but the people must not be confused by the promises. They were markets for the farmers and an end to unemployment for all others. Markets, work and wages—these were the promises, and neither have been fulfilled.

He believed the present administration to be entirely wrong in its point of view, methods and policies with respect to trade, continued the Liberal leader.

The Prime Minister's point of view of international trade. This was not a new point of view, but it was a dangerous one. Like war in any other phase, it was pretty certain to be fought all round the world. As individuals and as a nation we were being drawn into this kind of warfare.

BENNETT'S "CANADA FIRST"

Mr. King dealt with the policy of "Canada First." "Not a day passes," he said, "but there are fresh evidences of the working of this policy. By act of parliament, by order-in-council, by official valuation, wherever, by crack or crevice, trade begins to trickle in, out or not the tariff is raised. It is no such thing for any length of time as an all one-way trade—some fresh effort is made to plug the aperture a little more tightly and to raise the tariff on the goods that are to be gathered. To this policy is given the name of 'Canada First.' It is the extreme of economic nationalism. That it may not become too unpleasant, and just in order that it may be kept in check, there is now emerging as a sort of cloak or shroud within which it is to be concealed, a new form of economic isolation, an economic imperialism, of which the name 'Empire First' has already been given."

"Canada must decline to become a subsidiary unit of an imperial holding company," Mr. King asserted. "Our position as a great exporting country, demands the organization of our trading relations on a world-wide scale. Anything less than this would be a denial of our birthright. To the extent to which imperial preferences open the portals of trade, they can be endorsed wholeheartedly. To the extent they close the portals of trade, they must be examined critically, with due regard to our long-run national interests and the importance of retaining our economic freedom to deal with other countries on terms of mutual advantage."

"Canada, a country among the countries of the world," was the motto which Liberalism placed on its banner, continued the Liberal leader. "This contained no vain boasting, 'none of the arrogance of supreme egotism, none of the manners or methods of the bully, nothing in the nature of despotism.' The policy of 'Canada First,' on the other hand, he characterized as 'political counterfeiting.' It had been stamped on a policy conceived in the interests of a class and section and fundamentally opposed to the interests of the primary producers. It was a policy of privilege, but it had defeated its own purpose."

speak very plainly. I do not hesitate to say that neither of these paths, the path of economic nationalism nor the path of economic imperialism—is a path to peace in our own land or to world peace, but that each is a sure path to certain destruction—that, as sure as night follows day, economic war, sooner or later, will be followed by actual war. What this country needs, and what the world needs today, is to be rid entirely of the war mentality, to find other motives than those of strife as the mainspring of our actions, other words than those of the vocabulary of war whereby to express our economic relations; and other methods than those of coercion and force by which to give expression to our national policies. We have seen our own people and the peoples of other lands, deceived by a 'Canada First' cry which all have come to see means nothing but protection run mad. We do not propose to deceive ourselves. We propose to face the facts. 'Canada First' which, were its objective ever to be attained would mean the same thing over an extended area."

DANGERS SEEN

It was significant, continued Mr. King, that the president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association had "already raised his voice against the dangers of tariffs which are too high" and that the association had by resolution "drawn attention to the extent to which tariffs render trade impossible." There was danger of an "Empire First" campaign now, he warned. In it "use will be made of all the paraphernalia of jingoism, loyalty, the flag, British connection and what not as a means of promoting this economic imperialism for the benefit of a few specially favored industrial and financial groups in this and other parts of the Empire, and to the detriment of the economic needs and real interests of Canada, or the greater well-being of the British Empire as a whole."

WOULD RESTORE BOARD

In promising to restore the tariff to former levels, said Mr. King, he would also promise to restore the Advisory Board to the tariff and taxation. He referred to the "battledore and shuttlecock sort of way" in which the present government made fiscal and financial pronouncements one day, only to change them the next. "There is much to indicate that in most things he acts first and thinks afterwards," he said with reference to the Prime Minister.

At the last session of Parliament a bill had been put through establishing a tariff board. "The law was so framed to make of the board, if so desired, an instrument of the Prime Minister's will," he said. The House had been told there was immediate necessity for the appointment of the board. Up to the present, however, not a single member had been named. The legislation, said Mr. King, might as well never have been passed. This was the situation at a time when fluctuating and depreciated currencies made a board particularly necessary.

WARNING FOR PREMIER

He proposed to refer to the forthcoming Economic Conference, Mr. King continued, because the people of Canada did not want to see this second meeting, if it ever took place, and especially if it took place in Canada, "become the fiasco which the last one was." It could not, however, amount to anything unless, between now and the time the conference takes place, the Prime Minister altered considerably his point of view with respect to trade, his method of negotiating and his policies. "He will have to abandon altogether the policy of 'Canada First' in the terms in which he presented that policy to Britain at the conference in 1930," warned Mr. King. As some of Mr. Bennett's own party or-gans had expressed it, "the 'Canada First' policy is not a policy of protection, but of exclusion."

SUCCESS DESIRED

"We of the Liberal Party wish to see the forthcoming Imperial Economic conference made a success," Mr. King declared. "Anything we can do toward ensuring that end, short of foregoing those policies which we believe alone can make it a success, we are prepared to do." But the way to meet Britain and the other countries of the British Commonwealth was not in a narrow spirit of "either petty or blustering bargaining." The broad spirit of willingness to become good and better customers of those who treated us likewise was the proper one to adopt.

He was not asking that between now and the time of the conference there should be a change in the administration, continued Mr. King. He was asking there be a change in the policies of the administration. He appealed to (Continued on Page 13)

net for bread, and have received a succession of Christmas puddings," said Mr. King. "The farmers also asked for bread, and have received nothing but a succession of Christmas puddings, and a de use edition of the 'Canada First' creed, paid for out of the taxes which have come from their own pockets."

TO REOPEN TRADE AVENUES

The effort of the Liberal Party, Mr. King declared, would be to go forward to reopen every possible avenue of trade which had been closed by the Bennett administration. Canadian standards of living would be safeguarded, and dumping would not be permitted, but the effort would be to promote trade with every nation which would trade to Canada. There was no longer any doubt as to the path which led to progress. Lower tariffs meant reduced costs, increased volume of business and greater prosperity. Higher tariffs led to unemployment and stagnation.

LIBERAL PLAN

"As time goes by, conditions change, and what for yesterday may have been the wisest step, for to-morrow may be a step which, if taken at all, should be taken with great caution," he continued. "Speaking broadly, however, we are faced with the task of restoring the tariff structure of this country to levels at least equivalent to those which existed when we went out of office. What Canada requires above all else today is a policy which will be more concerned with encouraging exports than in keeping out imports. Our policies should aim primarily at making it possible for us to sell abroad. Once we succeed in this, we shall find the home market more than taking care of itself. A policy of removing arbitrary valuations, prohibitory duties and other like atrocities of the present government, had better hasten to join its following."

WOULD RESTORE BOARD

In promising to restore the tariff to former levels, said Mr. King, he would also promise to restore the Advisory Board to the tariff and taxation. He referred to the "battledore and shuttlecock sort of way" in which the present government made fiscal and financial pronouncements one day, only to change them the next. Newspaper Women Play Important Part, Says Writer

Toronto Speaker Reviews Work of Canadian Women Journalists

Canadian Press

Toronto, Jan. 13.—Newspaperwomen, who usually spend their lives writing of other men and women, came into the limelight before the Canadian Literature Club, and somewhat astonished a large audience who had not realized how much they had accomplished.

Mrs. J. G. Althouse prefaced her account of "What Women Journalists Have Done in Canada" by a brief statement of the remarkable number of women in this country who are earning their living by writing. For example, the thirty-two women reporters on the Toronto dailies represent a higher percentage of the total reporting staff than do the women reporters on the New York newspapers.

Maintaining that women journalists have had a real share in casting the mould of Canadian literature, the speaker traced the ever-expanding influence of women in Canadian journalism from Frances Brooke (1747-1789), through Rosanna Leprhon of Montreal, Catharine Parr Trail and her sister, Susannah Moodie to the present day. She gave thumbnail sketches of the careers of Cora Hind, Janey Canuck, Nellie McClung, Marjorie MacMurchy, the "Home Maker," and "Bride Broder" and referred to a hundred other women writers in the larger centres and in the smaller towns throughout Canada, who are doing excellent work as editors, department editors, reporters, advertisers, publicity experts and feature writers.

INSIST UPON TRUTH

Mrs. Althouse stressed that women writers have apparently been foremost in insisting upon truth in national publicity. She pointed to their success as political writers, and accounted for their insights in political affairs by the fact that the women writer is interested in persons rather than in abstractions. For this reason, women have proved to be the ablest protagonists of their community. Women have excelled in humorous writing and in writing for children. Even war correspondence has been included in the repertoire of the woman journalist.

The speaker impressed upon her audience the industry, courage and versatility of the women writers of "Canada." "Their singleness of purpose has made them of equal value with men in their specialized service to the country; this service will be best discharged by a spirit of co-operation, rather than competition, on the part of the journalists of both sexes," she said.

Mrs. Anne Anderson Perry spoke on "What They Might Do." She felt that Mrs. Althouse's paper should bring wider recognition of the important place newspaper women of to-day should hold, representing as they do, not just the "home body," but women of varied capacities and activities—women who thought and read, and those who entered the world of business and sport.

VALUE OF WOMAN'S PAGE

She did not believe there need be competition and jealousies between the sexes, nor that women should have "the whole show," but the drift emphatically maintained that more co-operation is needed. She noted this awakening to the news value of a page of wide range of topics has come to some men of vision—newspaper owners—who see the financial benefits. The women's departments have been proved to be the best paying of any department. Advertisers are quick to note this, for 90 per cent of the retail buyers are women, she said.

"A woman's page editor should have the status and salary of any other responsible head on a daily paper. Authority and control by those who have proved their soundness and worth should be taken for granted by those in chief places. The value of the constituency is not generally appreciated by men, and women writers are often not given adequate consideration," claimed Mrs. Perry.

Cold Insurance

He carries it with him, ready for just such times. That little box of Aspirin tablets. If he catches cold, what if? Aspirin will stop it. If his throat feels sore, he will end the soreness with one good gargle made from these tablets.

Dangerous complications can follow the neglect of "just a common cold." Every case of tonsillitis began with "just a sore throat!" It's a wise plan to take Aspirin after any undue exposure to bad weather, or whenever there is any chance that you've caught cold. Aspirin can't possibly hurt you; and how it does banish the aches and pains caused by colds, neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago, and even rheumatism.

Aspirin will insure your comfort through the worst cold season. The more susceptible you are to colds, the more you need it. Sold at drug stores. Made in Canada.

Victorian Order Of Nurses
Paid 12,827 Visits In Year
Annual Reports Reveal

Twenty-first Annual Meeting Held Yesterday Shows Valuable Community Service Given by Nursing Staff; 1,515 Cases Taken Care of; Mrs. M. E. Durand Elected President to Succeed Mrs. H. G. Lawson; Dr. R. Felton Suggests Health Education Be Extended to Young Chinese of City

Unemployment and its attendant ills caused a considerable increase in the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses during the last year and emphasized the very valuable contribution made to the health and well-being of the community by this efficient branch of the great public health nursing service, a total of 12,827 nursing visits being paid to 1,515 patients in 1931. To the five nurses of the staff, with the assistance of two relief nurses at a time of great pressure, fell the whole of this stupendous task, a task which was lightened somewhat by the very ready co-operation and assistance of philanthropic organizations and individuals.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

These facts were adduced at the twenty-first annual meeting of the local branch of the V.O.N. held yesterday afternoon at the headquarters, Cook Street. Mrs. Harry Lawson, the retiring president, read her report and gave a resume of the meetings and activities of the past year. Miss Mary McGuire of Ottawa, the western supervisor, visited the Victoria branch during the year and reported that this was the only place in Canada where every branch of the service offered by the Victorian Order was given to the community, that is, bedside nursing, pre-natal care, child welfare and TB work, also instructive classes for the prevention of disease. Fifty baby clinics have been held during 1931, Mrs. Lawson said. These have been under the supervision of Dr. R. Felton.

The annual tag day in June and the rummage sale in September netted the branch well over $1,000. This sum was augmented by the proceeds from concerts given by both the Arion Club and the David Spencer Choir.

LENTEN SEWING

Mrs. Lawson referred to the Lenten sewing meetings, held every Tuesday during Lent, at which are prepared the layettes that are distributed in connection with our pre-natal work. Our service in this line has so increased that, in spite of what we had considered a very ample supply of baby clothes for the year, Miss Thornley reports a serious shortage and it is necessary for the ladies to start at once on further supplies for the detestable cases that we have on our list.

TWO NEW CARS PURCHASED

"Our largest single expenditure during the year has been for the purchase of two new cars, one of which was bought in May and the other in October. It is an absolutely necessary item for our service to have efficient transportation in order to carry on their service; and, as one of these cars is used almost exclusively by Miss Benzie in carrying on the TB work, it requires on the part of Miss Thornley very careful planning of the day's work so that all the nurses may make their various calls.

"With these two new cars on the road, our five splendid nurses with their untiring devotion to duty, Miss Stead who so ably runs the office, and with a board strengthened by the addition of six new members, surely we can promise our community the same nursing service in 1932 that the order has always so efficiently given," said Mrs. Lawson.

Mrs. Lawson in concluding her report, thanked the members of the Victorian Club for so generously supporting the TB work done by the order, to the Arion Club, David Spencer Limited, and the members of the local Medical Association, the press and the many organizations, firms and private individuals who have made it possible for this excellent work to be carried on. She also thanked the board for their very loyal support and co-operation.

NURSES' REPORT

A comprehensive report of last year's work was given by Miss Ethel Thornley, nurse in charge of the Victoria branch. During the year the total number of visits made was 12,827. The number of patients nursed was 1,515; 998 were medical cases, 124 communicable cases, 57 surgical cases, 5 interrupted pregnancies, 151 prenatals, 4 emergency confinements, 52 infants of obstetrical cases, 62 postnatal, 62 infants of postnatal.

Visits to patients during the year were made up as follows: 818 prenatal visits, 465 obstetrical, 466 infants of obstetrical, 168 pneumonia, 159 tuberculosis, 326 other communicable, 878 cancer, 1,121 chronic, 2,321 others, 324 clinics and classes, 11 industrial investigation, 2,516 child welfare, 2,629 instructive visits, 654 TB, instructive, 327 on behalf of patients, 58 delivery visits; total 12,827 visits. Confinements attended 52, operations attended 7, classes in health hygiene 77, with an attendance of 1,254 girls between 12 and 18 years; clinics attended 50; total cases registered at well baby clinic 836, of these attending 101 were referred to their own doctors for treatment.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Mrs. F. V. Longstaff, the treasurer, reported the financial statement for the year. Receipts for that period totaled $10,225.76, the balance on December 31 being $1,000.10. The principal expenditures were for nurses' salaries, expense or car, office rent, milk for TB patients, sewing materials and purchase of the new cars.

DR. FELTON

Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, in his address stressed the educational side of the V.O.N. work, particularly the classes conducted by Miss Thornley and the educational value of each individual nursing visit. Suggesting that some concentrated effort be made to extend their class education to the younger Chinese who have been and are being educated in our public schools, and who are ready and asking for modern health education. In discussing the case of the children of a TB family refusing to return to live with an elderly parent, in a poorly ventilated and unsanitary building in Chinatown, Dr. Felton said the children had asked the city for assistance to remain in a better class house. Members of the family having died of TB in their previous unwholesome surroundings.

Dr. A. G. Price also spoke briefly, stating that he was in unity with Dr. Felton regarding work in Chinatown, especially among the younger Chinese.

Unemployed Workers of Brisbane Prove Problem to Authorities

Brisbane, Australia, Jan. 12.—The unemployed women of Brisbane have threatened that unless the Government of Queensland agrees to discontinue the problems with them they will march through the streets of the city nude.

The number of jobless women is so great that authorities doubt whether they would be able to arrest all of them if they carried out their threat. These women already have participated in some extraordinary demonstrations.

BABY OF ONE YEAR ENTITLED TO SODA CRACKERS

One of the iron-clad rules which mothers should know and embrace is that babies do not profit by being fed anything between regular meals. Any food that is proper for baby to have is part of his regular diet, and should be given each day, not just now and then or at odd hours when the mother happens to think of it.

NIBBLES SODA CRACKERS

"I am a constant reader of your column and find much that is of interest and benefit in it," I hear from Mrs. R. W. P. "My five-month-old baby weighs nine pounds at birth and now weighs twenty pounds. He was breast-fed for two months and then put on Bulgarian buttermilk with corn syrup. He now has one quart of this daily in four eight-ounce feedings, also the juice of an orange every day.

BEGIN CEREALS

The baby has made a very rapid gain, but do not expect a large one from now on. Right now he is setting the maximum amount of milk, and will not put on so much weight in the future.

WON DAMAGES AGAINST HOTEL

Stoney Creek, Ont., Jan. 12.—Appreciation does sometimes come in one's lifetime as Miss Peg, school nurse, discovered when she was summoned to the township council chamber and presented with a fine silver tea service and electric mantle clock. For years she has worked indefatigably among families who required assistance, saving the township much money, according to the men who know what has been done. Reeve Glover, who made the presentation, spoke in glowing terms of what had been accomplished by the school nurse, Miss Peg, and Miss Peg, speaking in similar vein, said she had become a real convert to the value of a school nurse in the community, for not only did she visit the children in the schools, but followed up by visiting the homes and getting at the facts of the situation.

BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE

Students' Choir Warmly Greeted on Initial Recital Yesterday Evening

Mrs. W. H. Wilson Welcomed as Guest Soloist; Chairman Commends Singers

From time to time the Jubilee Nurses' Glee Club has been heard of in connection with hospital activities, as for instance, at Christmas when this little band of choristers sang carols throughout the corridors for the entertainment of the patients, but it was not until yesterday evening that they made their public debut. For the happy occasion the lounge at the new nurses' home was filled with a most appreciative audience, who gave a warm welcome to this latest addition to the city's musical bodies.

Under the capable baton of W. C. Fyfe, the director, the sixteen members of the choir gave a most commendable performance, the more praiseworthy in that these young pupil nurses have a little time to spare from their nursing training to devote to their musical studies. The youthful freshness and sweetness of their voices compensates for the lack of the more imposing choral effects which are achieved only with long experience and training, and balance, pitch and tempo throughout was splendid, reflecting much credit upon the conductor.

The programme included M. B. Foster's "Work and Play," "The Angel Song" (Rubenstein), "Madrigal of Spring" (Percy Fletcher), which had to be repeated in response to the insistent demands of the audience; "Osalips and Violeta," which is the title of Hudson's charming setting of the old English air, "I Know a Bank"; and Gardiner's sprightly "Sir Egglemore." Miss Schroeder, also a member of the training school, was a most efficient accompanist.

Three members of the club, the Misses E. M. Hood, E. C. Hood and E. Rosseter sang several times with much charm, "Song of Rest" (Walford Davies), and Edward German's popular "Orpheus With his Lute."

Report of Death Of Woman Author Was Premature

New Orleans, La., Jan. 13.—The Associated Press received an erroneous report last night that Miss Grace King, New Orleans author, had died at her home here.

A statement by members of the family that Miss King could not live through the night was misunderstood to mean she had died. She was still alive this morning, but her physicians said death was expected momentarily.

Miss King made an international reputation through her writings, which included novels, magazine stories, historical reviews and poetry.

Dr. Chase's OINTMENT

Why In Husband's Family?

YOUNG woman said to me the other day: "I am in a quandary and do not know what to do. I have just got a letter from my mother, who writes me that she is going to send my brother, a boy of fifteen, to stay with me and go to school. She thinks city schools are better than those in the small town in which he lives. Also, she thinks that Bobby needs a change and that it will do him good to be away from home for a while."

"Now, my husband and I are a poor young couple just trying to get a start in the world. He gets a very moderate salary and in order to save a little nest egg we count every penny. We live in a small apartment and I do housework and just the adding of another mouth to feed—and that of a hungry, growing boy—is going to almost double our expenses and my work."

"Moreover, shutting up a healthy, husky young lad, used to a big house and wide spaces, in our little two-by-four flat is going to be like penning up a wild beast in a cage. He will smash everything in it to smithereens, to say nothing of destroying all of our peace and quiet, for he will be whooping in and out all the time with a string of boys at his heels and keeping the radio going full tilt with the loud speaker on, and trying experiments with the electric lights and the plumbing and everything will be confusion worse confounded."

"For that is what happened when Bobby paid us a week's visit once before. During it he managed to contrive an explosion with the gas stove, set the waste basket on fire, get the bathroom pipes clogged up, smash our automobile and help himself to all of John's best neckties."

"Now, I am fond of Bobby and if I were the only one to have to suffer because of him, I'd meekly offer myself up as the sacrificial goat on the family altar, but there is my husband and I don't see why he should be robbed of all of the comfort and happiness of his home in order to give my relatives free board and lodging. It seems to me a pretty rotten deal to hand him and yet that is exactly what has happened to him."

"We have been married nearly three years now and in all that time we have not had a week in which we have not had some of my family staying with us. Mother wants to see about getting some new glasses or having her teeth fixed, or she decides that she needs a little change and she writes that she will be down Wednesday on the 4.15 train and to be sure and meet her. Or the girls arrive bag and baggage to stay for months seeing the town. Or mother gives Tommy and Bobby a trip to visit me as a reward for getting good marks at school."

"And so John and I have to give up our bed when mother comes and make cot beds all over the place when my sisters and brothers arrive and we live in a higgledy-piggledy mess, with toilet articles mixed up with silver on the sideboard and shoes under the dining table and clothes spread all over the place."

"And my poor husband goes around like a martyr, unable to find a single moment that belongs to him in the confusion, with no spot where he can sit down and rest when he comes home at night, and seeing the money we had earned to save for theatre tickets and restaurants, and so on, for our out-of-town visitors always expect to be shown the city and given a good time. I shouldn't blame him if he turned wife-deserter any day and failed to come back to a home from which he had been crowded out by his wife's family."

"It is queer how ruthless families are about exploiting the man who marries into them. They seem to think that when a girl gets married her husband belongs to them and they have a right to get out of him everything they possibly can and that he should be willing to work for them the balance of his days."

"Most fathers and mothers demand a lot more of their sons-in-law than they ever do of their sons, and touch sons-in-law's pockets more heavily than they do their own boys'. It is to their daughters' houses, not their sons', that they go to for interminable uninvited visits. It is their daughters, and not their sons, who are expected to take in the younger members of the family and send them to school, or launch them in society. When money is needed to pay the taxes or the rent, or for an operation, it is to daughter and not to son that they go with their tale of woe. And it is daughter who is expected to take care of mother or father or an afflicted brother or sister when the old home is broken up."

"Yet mother and father well know that daughter hasn't a cent of her own and that it is her husband who has to dig down and get the money that they take without thanks or appreciation because they somehow feel that it belongs to them."

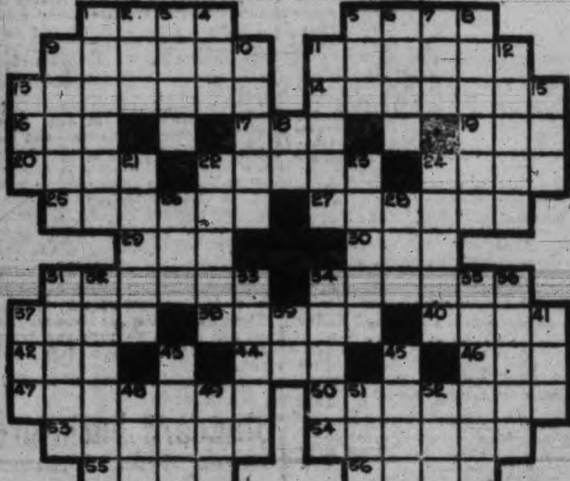

"All of this makes a pretty muddle in which there are thousands of us wives who find ourselves involved and unable to see a way out. We love our husbands and like to help them and to have them visit us, and we love our families and hate to impose upon them and we do with that our families would try to seize that when a man marries a girl he does not espouse her whole family, but that he would like his house sometimes to himself, without any of wife's relatives camped in his best bedroom."

"But they won't do it. Mother will always go along thinking that whatever belongs to her daughters belongs to her and that she has a special right to it."

HOLD INQUEST OVER CHINESE

Death Follows Crash Between Bicycle and Man on Moss Street

The inquest over Lim Lee, Chinese, 604 Pigeon Street, who sustained fatal injuries in an accident with a bicycle at the intersection of Moss and Richardson streets, late yesterday afternoon, will probably be held to-morrow by Coroner E. C. Hart.

It was anticipated an adjournment would be necessary to secure the evidence of Claude Peden, 1232 Oscar Street, the bicyclist, who is confined to his home with a fractured skull and all efforts of Dr. R. E. Strachan to save his life failed.

The accident occurred about 4.40 o'clock when Lim was walking on Richardson Street, across the foot of Moss Street hill, according to a report to the police. Peden, who is sixteen years of age, was reported to be riding southward on Moss down the hill, carrying Richard Hughes, 85 Moss Street, behind him on the carrier. The bicycle struck Lim and he was thrown heavily to the pavement.

Police were called and the injured man rushed to the hospital, but he succumbed shortly.

SAYS REEVE'S WARD GOT MOST

Councillor Borden Criticizes Distribution of Saanich Relief Work

Large Ward One Meeting Heard Candidates at St. Luke's Hall

A protest that sectional favoritism had been rampant last year in Saanich, in apportionment of work done under various unemployment relief schemes, was made yesterday evening by Councillor Fred Borden at St. Luke's Hall, Cedar Hill, in the course of an address before 200 men and women at an election meeting.

When presenting his annual report and asking for re-election, Councillor Borden said that Ward Seven, in which Reeve Crouch resides, received highway and other public improvements costing $17,226 under the relief scheme. The ward had only fifteen miles of roads, he commented, in contrast to Ward Six, which had forty-eight miles of roads and only benefited by expenditure of $7,790 of relief money.

The agreement attained by the council had been that the improvements were to be equitably distributed between all parts of Saanich, but the men given relief work in rural wards could be residents of urban areas and be transported to their jobs.

Ward One, which he represented, had enjoyed relief expenditure of $10,837, Mr. Borden said. The ward had many more miles of roads than Ward Seven. The figures in the official statement had greatly surprised him, the councillor asserted.

A. E. Horner, a former councillor and school trustee, appealed for election to the council on a policy of more work for the unemployed. He had heard no constructive programme for the coming year, he said. He favored borrowing for public works and believed that $20 monthly for each man employed could be obtained from the federal government to supplement municipal funds. Such a policy was better than allowing workless to become law-breakers, and he believed the ratepayers of Saanich would be willing to pay more taxes for such a policy.

Mr. Horner also favored a strong campaign to replace reverted lots on the tax roll. He believed that many unemployed men would be glad to raise vegetables for food on suitable lots, if allowed to do so.

Reeve Crouch gave a review of the municipal administration and briefly mentioned the council's policy of "calculus and selfish" in regard to the unemployed, pointing to his activity in raising large funds for distribution in the Saanich Welfare Association, which he had organized as a means of assisting families in distress.

He defended employment of a "whole-time" medical officer, the policy having eliminated annual costs of $6,000 for isolation hospital charges. The salary of $4,000 was reasonable, Dr. Berman being a specially trained public health officer.

Rev. M. W. J. Bruce said that if elected he would give an economical administration and increase taxation if possible.

Other candidates who spoke were: Police Commissioner C. E. King, L. E. Goddard, commission candidate; A. E. Hull, John Reid and Frank H. Partington.

F. Salmon was chairman.

PROWLER STEALS TYPIST'S PURSE

Perpetration of a daring theft shortly after 1 o'clock to-day left a stenographer in The Times Building minus her purse and $5.

The purse containing the money was taken virtually from under her nose while she prepared to leave a rest room on the third floor of The Times Building. She left the rest room for only a few seconds to enter a room next to it and during the interval the theft was committed.

Two men were seen in the corridor not far from the room just before the purse was taken. They escaped.

A ninety-day stop-over can be arranged if members of the B.C. club go to a broker designated by the club and deposit, not an amount required to cover the duty on the automobile, but only the amount of the premium on the bond that would be required under other option is to pay a dollar to the Southern California Automobile Association and give security for the amount of the duty on the automobile. The annual meeting for the election of officers will be held at an undecided date in February. A chairman, vice-chairman, treasurer and ten directors have to be elected.

Two options are being given members of the British Columbia Automobile Club to prolong their stays in California over the ordinary limit. A ninety-day stop-over can be arranged if members of the B.C. club go to a broker designated by the club and deposit, not an amount required to cover the duty on the automobile, but only the amount of the premium on the bond that would be required under other option is to pay a dollar to the Southern California Automobile Association and give security for the amount of the duty on the automobile. This duty security is returnable.

A team from the debating group of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be the first to represent the club in argument at the High School auditorium on January 21. The subject for discussion will be "Resolved that in the opinion of the meeting the nationalization of all industries is preferable to the present capitalist system." The affirmative will be taken by the night school team, composed of: Boothman, A. McIntyre and Miss E. Bennett. The chamber squad, in opposition, will include Reg. Chave, E. J. Browning and John Baxter.

Application for dismissal of the action for unstated damages brought against the B.C. Cameron, counsel for the B.C. Airways. The action was started on August 22, 1929, but no move has been made since to bring it to trial. Britain Told Victoria Has 10,000 People

But Writer to London Publication Puts Vancouver's Population at 600,000.

Many people in Great Britain have just been informed the population of Victoria is 10,000 and that of Vancouver 600,000. A. Casey, an Old Countryman writing from Toronto to The Church Army Gazette of London, is enthusiastic about a trip he has made west, but appears to have been badly informed on the population of the two main cities of British Columbia.

After dealing with the east and the prairies, Mr. Casey continued by stating that Victoria and Vancouver are "both wonderful cities, to reach which we have been through some more wonderful scenery. Never could you see better anywhere in the world. Vancouver and Victoria are very clean cities, with lovely and modern wonderful homes and such beautiful flowers as you would only see like in England."

A "lovely harbor—in which are ships from all over the world, Japan, China, Honolulu and all parts of the east; and people, well there are about 600,000 in Vancouver and 10,000 in Victoria."

Fourth race, mile and a quarter—Uncle Charlie, 106; Sporting Blues, 108; Gertrude Reade, 96; Ed Reese, 108; Wild Laurel, 102; Constance Ann, 103; Fortune, 100; Tea Green, 104.

Fifth race—Six furlongs: Little Buster, 103; Little Marcella, 98; To-night, 104; Magna Mater, 106; Lawful Gamble, 111; Ever Gold, 110; Penn 112; Bright Knot, 111; Miss N. Conlan, 106; Melody Queen, 98; Wise Sella, 111; Mingle, 106.

Sixth race—Mile and seventy yards: Joan G. 101; Best Nod, 100; Alton, 106; Mad A. 104; Molly Hogan, 101; St. Jim 114; Red Tam 101; Potful 114; Aregal 114; Aristocrat, 109; Caroline, 109; Star Flyer, 109; Evelyn L. 109; Intruder, 106.

Seventh race—Mile and seventy yards: Red Shadow 104; Beauty Secret, 103; Boot Nose 104; Quaker Ways 104; Princess Crusader, 98; Scandal, 98; 104; Harsco, 113; Princess Elsie, 113; Gay Prince 113; Dizzy 108; Bob F. 109; Glorious Swan 107; Peal 105; Beggar Lady 94; Malmpra 99.

The fruit business here came to a standstill to-day, with wholesalers afraid to handle the fruit which is waiting them in the depots because this kind of fruit is particularly susceptible to cold and turns black. Chinese delivery men were reluctant to expose their fruit to the cold.

The season's first car of California lettuce arrived here yesterday and prices on this commodity, which have been the highest in the market for a member, took a substantial drop. Large marmalade oranges are now on the market and are selling at from forty to fifty cents a dozen.

Schmeling's Hope for $1,000,000 This Year Brings Back Memories

James Corbett and Peter Jackson "Born Thirty Years Too Soon"

Fair Battled Sixty-one Rounds to "No Contest" for $2,500 Each

Connie Mack May Feel Bit Uneasy When Stars Seek Pay Cheques

WHEN we read where Max Schmeling, German holder of the world heavyweight boxing championship, expects to make a $1,000,000 for fighting thirty rounds this year in defence of his title, we have to agree that two of the world's heavyweights of all time, James J. Corbett and Peter Jackson, were born thirty years too soon. For what would the modern fight world, with its big arenas, big prizes and big publicity, give these men, in their prime, for a fight? They trained for two months, then battled sixty-one rounds on May 21, 1901. And in payment they received $2,500 each, with the privilege of fighting again for $7,500.

Corbett at that time had beaten Joe Choynski, in their bare fight. He had drawn with Dave Campbell and won from Jake Kilrain at New Orleans. Jackson, the marvelous negro from Australia, was at his prime. Friends of both urged the match. Both were willing. But the California Club doubted the advisability of sending the virtually unknown Corbett against Jackson. Finally they were signed for a $5,000 purse. Jackson refused to take the ex-ante seriously, and expected to win in six rounds. He trained hard, though, as did Corbett.

Only members of the California Club could attend the fight, as the wealthy sportsmen composing it, assessed themselves for the sum necessary for purses. Thronged filled the streets of San Francisco. Owing to the growing excitement, the club refused to allow any newspaper to install ringside wires or telephones at request of the police. Young Corbett, self-taught, was the most formidable heavyweights, on the short end of the betting. Wise ringsters picked Jackson.

Rightly they stepped into it. Corbett landing with a curved arm blow and Jackson with straight punches. There was plenty of science on both sides, and the tide of battle ebbed and flowed. Corbett's aggressiveness caught the fancy of the crowd. Corbett scored heavily with left swings and jolts, and Peter's best were right-handers. To the best of fact, Corbett's left hand through repeated use of the forearm to ward off these right-handers. It looked like curtains for the negro in the forty-first, with Jackson backed into a corner, off-balance and Corbett raining lefts and rights. Peter fought on, however. From then on the fight was listless.

Corbett's left forearm went lame. Jackson's shoulder had gone back on him. An ankle injury kept him from an action stiffened. In most of the latter rounds, Jackson stood in the centre with Corbett circling him. It seemed, after the fifty-fifth round, that Corbett could have jumped against Jackson and the latter would have fallen down. But Jackson's quick right to the heart was deadly and Corbett knew it.

The crowd, always shrieking for action, urged them to fight. The club directors insisted on a referee. They replied they were doing their best. By the sixty-first they were so weary they could only stare at each other. Then Cook stopped the fight with a "no contest" decision. Jackson was weary and disappointed, while Corbett viewed it as a victory. But as to financial rewards, they were "born thirty years too soon."

Connie Mack has announced he intends to stand pat with three straight American League pennants, and two world championships. Mack must be right of course, as he is Al Simmons, Jimmy Fox, Lefty Grove, George Earnshaw and Mickey Cochrane calling for their handsome pay cheques, and Mack discovers that his team, slowly but surely, is too good for the other clubs in the league, is not drawing, but when he goes to worry a little bit when he ponders that he probably could sell those five players for something around $500,000. Disposal of two or three of the A's stars to the weaker teams in the league would pay by balance the club. And a close race would create more interest and bigger gates.

Ontario Changes Hockey Play-offs

Toronto, Jan. 13.—Intermediate champions in the Ontario Hockey Association will forego their Allan Cup elimination playdown chances, it was decided at an O.H.A. executive meeting here yesterday evening. Unusually mild weather and resulting postponement of schedules was responsible for the decision.

Junior and senior champions will continue as in other years. It was decided to extend the date for declaration of group winners in the intermediate section from February 5 to February 15.

It was said more than 175 games have been postponed this season in the intermediate and junior series.

U.S. REDUCES WINTER TEAM

Shortage of Funds Forces Seventeen Per Cent Cut in Olympiad Forces

New York, Jan. 13.—A shortage of funds has forced a seventeen per cent reduction in the size of American winter sports teams at the winter Olympics at Lake Placid, February 4 to 13.

The American Olympic committee has decided to shave its winter sports team from an original estimate of 108 members to a minimum of eighty-seven. Under this plan no alternatives will be carried.

At the same time the committee announces it will seek $350,000 by public subscription to cover the cost of equipment, transportation and maintenance of America's Olympic forces from the time of their selection in the final tryouts until the end of the games. A quota of one cent per person will be assigned to all cities of more than 15,000 population.

High Rugby Hits Snag

Brentwood College Will Only Play Games on Saturday; No Open Date Till Feb. 20

Victoria High, Leaders in Schedule, Without Stars on Week-ends

Complications arose yesterday afternoon in the High School Rugby League when Brentwood College, notified Victoria High School that its team would be unable to play games except on Saturdays. Victoria High and Brentwood have two more games to play with each other before the league is finished. The local institution is leading the league with two wins in two starts, while the Tod Inlet crew are second with a win and loss.

The first Saturday available for a game is February 20. Victoria High School does not like the idea of playing on Saturday as it would have to field a crippled team. Chapman, captain and star three-quarter, has to work "Muss" Patrick forward, and Harry Robson, halfback, are appearing in senior company, and Gordon Scott, another three-quarter also plays rugby on Saturdays.

They are extremely sorry that such a complication should arise and we certainly hope the matter can be straightened out satisfactorily. The High School does not want to wait over a month before it plays its next game, and it looks as if there will be no more games," said Coach Campbell yesterday afternoon when asked what the High would do. "All the boys are very anxious to play Brentwood."

In the event of no more games being played, the Scott-Moncrieff trophy will be defaulted to the High School and as Vancouver has not challenged the local provincial High School crown will also remain in Victoria.

PHELAN HAS SALARY CUT

Coach of University of Washington Huskies Suffers Twenty Per Cent Slice

Seattle, Jan. 13.—A twenty per cent reduction in the salary of Jimmy Phelan, football coach of the University of Washington, bringing it down to a basis of $12,000 a year, to-day led a retrenchment move in the institution's athletic activities.

The acceptance of the twenty per cent cut, affecting all major coaches, their assistants and all other employees of the associated students of the university, was forthcoming after a four-hour session of the finance committee yesterday evening.

The reductions will be effective for the remainder of the fiscal year, which ends in August.

In addition, a recommendation was formulated calling for the immediate dismissal of Steve Anderson, assistant track coach and former world champion high hurdler. The elimination of his salary, together with the economies in equipment and definite cancellation of the Stanford-Washington track meet at Palo Alto, will save $4,000, it was estimated.

WIZARD SMITH HAS POSTPONED EFFORT

Ninety Mile Beach, N.Z., Jan. 13.—The attempt of Norman (Wizard) Smith to break the world automobile speed record was postponed yesterday to await the next spring tide, January 22, or February 4.

Smith hopes to travel faster than the 245.73 miles an hour attained by Sir Malcolm Campbell of England at Daytona Beach, Fla., May 2, 1931.

Edmonton Hockeyvists In Another Victory

Edmonton, Jan. 13.—Edmonton Imperials continued their winning streak here yesterday evening at the expense of the High River Flyers, the Imperials triumphing in a hard-fought inter-city Senior Amateur Hockey League fixture by a score of 3 to 1. Only a few enthusiastic fans braved the cold weather to witness the game.

Youngsters After Blood of Veterans In Caliente Golf

Rising Generation of Golfers Hopes to End Domination of Seasoned Campaigners in $15,000 Tournament Which Opened To-day; Veterans Have Carried Off Majority of Honors in California Tourneys to Date; Gene Sarazen, Winner Two Years Ago, Is Early Favorite for Honors

Agua Caliente, Mexico, Jan. 13.—The youthful among golf's grenadiers, turned back in each of California's four tournaments, retrenched below the border in Baja, California, to-day seeking to capture Agua Caliente's third annual $15,000 open.

The rising generation has bowed to the veteran campaigners, but to walk off with first prize in this, the largest money tournament in the world, despite the cut from $25,000, would be considered a distinct victory.

But there was to be no marching of the army of 101 professionals and twenty-seven amateurs to-day if rain fell. Yesterday's shower left the course soft and difficult, and added moisture would force postponement of hostilities until Thursday, bringing the four-day seventy-two-hole affair to a close on Sunday.

If youth was to have its fling, the aging aces claimed to know nothing of it. Gene Sarazen, New York, one of the greatest money players in the game, who inaugurated the championship two years ago, showed in the Los Angeles open by his strong finish that he probably will be on his game in the quest of $5,000 top money.

U.B.C. Hoopsters In Easy Win Over Multnomah Team

Vancouver, Jan. 13.—University of British Columbia Canadian champion basketball squad toyed lightly with the Portland Multnomah team and downed them 31 to 21 at the U.B.C. gym yesterday evening. The colligians shot rifle-like passes that had the Portlanders bewildered and at half-time the southern aggregation were down 20 to 1.

Returning Here After Over a Year's Absence; Brooks Meets "Cowboy" Ray

Dr. Karl Sarpolis, famous wrestling medico from Cleveland, will make his return to Victoria on Saturday evening at the Tillamook gymnasium, when he goes up against Eddie Munson, Australian star, in a bout scheduled over the eight ten-minute round route. The eight-minute round semi-windup will bring together "Cowboy" Ray, Arizona veteran, and "Rocky" Brooks, local heavyweight.

The first preliminary will commence at 8.45 o'clock.

Sarpolis is returning after an absence of over a year. During that time he engaged in many bouts in Los Angeles and other southern centres and has established a great name for himself. Several months ago he was forced from the game as the result of an injury received in a bout with Abe Kaplan. For awhile it was thought he was out for good, but the "Doc" went east and his brother, who practices medicine in Cleveland, put him in first class shape again.

MISSISSIPPI AND DETROIT TIE

International League Hockey Teams Battle to 3 to 3 Deadlock in Overtime

Toronto, Jan. 13.—Buffalo Bisons maintained their five-point lead over Detroit Olympics in the International Hockey League here yesterday evening when they battled George Hay's stalwarts to a 3 to 3 tie on their home ice.

Gaining a two-goal lead before the half-way mark was reached when Goldsworthy and Gagne each slipped a goal past Taucher, Olympics let up on their speedy attack and Buffalo continued to invade Detroit territory, with the result they evaded the count before the final stanza had ended. Carl Voss, sturdy Bison centre, and Lorne Carr, alternate wingman, were the marksmen for the pace setters.

Buffalo continued their whirlwind pace in the overtime and before five minutes had elapsed Voss had added another goal. Detroit evaded the count with less than a minute to play when Goldsworthy slipped a pass across the goal mouth to Johnny Newman, who flowed the rubber into the cage.

Members of Parliament from all parts of Canada to give earnest thought to the policies which would prevail at the conference. He asked all those members belonging to constituencies represented on the government side, whether with the knowledge they now possessed, it was not their duty to seek to have the administration modify "its extreme position" in matters of tariff.

DEMAND GROWS
Many people in Canada to-day were demanding a change of administration, the Liberal leader said. He believed that demand would grow. "I am not here to suggest at the moment anything of the kind," he continued.

"The government, I know, is prepared to hold on at any price. I am here, however, to urge, before that step becomes inevitable, as it is rapidly becoming, a change in the government's policy on this all-important question of inter-imperial and international trade, so that all parties in the House of Commons may work together in their effort to make the forthcoming Economic Conference of benefits alike to Canada and the British Empire as a whole. I can see no chance for either, so long as the doctrine of 'Canada First' as put forth at the last Imperial Conference, and as put into operation by the changes which before and since have been made in our own tariffs, continues to dominate the policies of the day.

REDUCTION OF EXPENDITURES
Curtailed of expenditures was advocated by Mr. King, and in steps along this line he promised support to the government. If such steps were taken before long, the country was going to find itself in a position of very serious financial embarrassment, as many of its provinces now were aware.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF
In the matter of unemployment relief, he charged, there had been "much that is little short of a country waste, and anything but what there should have been in the way in which money has been disbursed." At the last session of Parliament, the Prime Minister had demanded authority to spend from the public treasury any sum he pleased. He was absolutely indifferent to a demand for control of this unlimited expenditure by a representative commission rather than by the government itself, through one of its ministers. To-day the minister in charge had broken down in health, and the department mainly responsible for the "colossal expenditure" was without other than an acting head. The country would be deprived of useful information which a commission would have obtained. Not one constructive suggestion which would be of assistance in the drafting of a measure of unemployment insurance would be preserved.

"The Liberal Party had made known its intention," continued the Liberal leader, "to take steps when returned to power to bring about a federal scheme of unemployment insurance." Notwithstanding its expenditure of millions, he maintained, he had failed to secure for many thousands of unemployed, the employment which they were guaranteed.

FINANCE MINISTER NEEDED
Canada needed a minister of finance, Mr. King asserted. Balancing of the budget was a vital necessity. Conditions in this country were far too critical to permit of having acting ministers in the offices of Finance and Labor, not to speak of other departments. Government by Cabinet Council had been devised to get rid of monopoly of public office. It also had been devised to provide for discussion and counsel. Mr. King quoted Solomon: "In a multitude of counselors, there is safety." It appeared to be a reflection on the Prime Minister, or at least on Mr. Bennett, who was "unwilling, overburdened though he was, to trust the all-important office of Finance Minister to a member of the Conservative Party, or that not a single member of that party can be found who is ready to accept the office under him."

SECRET SITTINGS CONDEMNED
Briefly, Mr. King dealt with the railway problem. He condemned in unmeasured terms the holding of sittings in secret by the Royal Commission on Railways. "I do not hesitate to say that secrecy with respect to matters pertaining to the great railway systems of this country is something that is wholly indefensible," he said. "It is a part of the star chamber method of proceeding which has led to the tariff being manipulated as it has."

"The secretive and mysterious manner in which the Royal Commission on Railways has been permitted to proceed has, of itself, given rise to many unpleasant suspicions, not the least unpleasant of which is the belief that at the moment when conditions in the country may be even worse than they are to-day, and when Parliament, at the end of the session is weary of its labors, something in the nature of an emergency measure may be sprung to cope with which, and to save the nation from disaster, the country will be told a national government alone will be qualified," the Liberal leader said.

WILL NOT BE SCAPEGOAT
He warned the Prime Minister that if, "by secret sessions of a royal commission, or in any other way," he attempted to make the Canadian National Railway system the "scapegoat for the condition into which his own policies have served to bring this country, or to cause it to serve the ends of any transaction, monopoly of the kind in this Dominion from coast to coast as well as make him wish he had never taken up the reins of office."

LIBERALS' POSITION
"Liberalism will stand like a rock against every proposition, however camouflaged, which would destroy the independence and integrity of the Canadian National," said Mr. King. Also it would not suffer a railway monopoly controlled by entrenched and aggressive financial interests. Neither would it permit the undoing of the statutory protection which, on grounds of public policy, it had secured to western Canada with respect to railway rates.

NEW LIBERAL ASSOCIATION
Mr. King referred to the new National Liberal Association. Co-operation of the ablest minds was necessary to meet Canada's growing problems, he said. The new association proposed to form "study groups" of earnest Liberal workers who would address their minds to these problems. He said a political party was nothing more or less than what the men and women who shared its ideas and ideals cared to make it.

"If the Liberalism of the past has not been sufficiently aggressive or radical to suit the more ardent and zealous of those who have at heart the greatest happiness for the greatest number, it is for all such to provide the wider outlook, not by dividing the forces of freedom, but by lending to a great cause the fire of their enthusiasm," he said. "We cannot do this in a political party, any more than in any other sphere of human activity, but, each in his own way, can make the contribution which his circumstances and capacities permit, remembering always that it is not individuals, but ideas, that conquer in the end, and that he who works for righteousness and freedom in national affairs has the sternest upon his side."

MOTOR CAPABLE OF GOING 300 MILES AN HOUR

Sir Malcolm Campbell, Holder of Land Speed Record, Plans Another Attempt

Figures His Daytona Beach Record of 245.773 Miles Per Hour Will Not Stand

New York, Jan. 13.—Sir Malcolm Campbell still believes an automobile can be made to travel 300 miles an hour and he has hopes of proving it, perhaps within a month, perhaps in a longer period.

Although his United States representative, Bill Sturm of Indianapolis, indicated yesterday that Campbell is considering a return to Daytona Beach, Fla., within a month for another record attempt, Campbell himself in London intimated that his plans still are in a highly indefinite state.

NO DEFINITE PLANS
"I've been talking about making a fresh attempt for some time," Campbell said. "Indeed, I may go on making attempts for another fifteen years, but I have not definitely planned anything at the moment."

Sturm said here that Campbell was certain his world record of 245.773 miles an hour would not endure very long and probably would be surpassed by the Australian speed king, Norman (Wizard) Smith. Smith now is waiting at Ninety Mile Beach, New Zealand, for favorable beach conditions preparatory to a try at the record.

LEW FELDMAN REFUSED TITLE

New York Commission Fails to Recognize Him as Featherweight Champ

New York, Jan. 13.—Lew Feldman asked the New York State Athletic Commission yesterday to recognize him as the featherweight champion of the world, succeeding Christopher (Bat) Battalino, who failed to make the class weight in a title fight with the New Yorker last Friday.

The commission said "No," and Feldman offered to compromise with the title of "defending champion" of the featherweights. Again the commission shook its head.

The commission previously had informed Feldman he had no claim to the title. Battalino forfeited here on the weighing scales, forcing cancellation of the fifteen-round match.

The matter of signing contracts for the Max Schmeling-Mike Walker heavyweight title match in Miami, on February 23, made slight progress yesterday, but not toward any penmanship on the part of the principals.

Jack Kearns, manager of the challenger, announced that he had hired a suite of rooms in one hotel for the ceremonies this afternoon. Representatives of Schmeling declared they had done the same at another equally different hotel, but with the date for the signing not determined.

But now most of the observers have given up all hope that the match ever will be signed, anywhere.

The fighters have been approaching the documents with the avowed intention of endorsing them for nine successive days.

COMMERCIALS MEET C.P.S.

Senior "A" Basketball Teams Clash at High School Gym This Evening

Ernie Cook and his fast-traveling Commercial hoop team will meet the C.P.S. to-night on the High School gymnasium in the opening game of the second-half race for senior "A" men's championship honors. Both teams need to win this second-half race in order to enter the play-off for the city championship. The Boynts won the first-half honors.

The other games to-night will bring together the J.B.A.A. and Blue Ribbon and the Normal School and Sons in a senior "B" men's encounter.

Both teams will be at full strength in the senior "A" encounter with the Commercial favored. Joe Ross, Chuck Chapman and Tommy Little will look after the guard positions for the Commercial, while Art Chapman, John Greer, Harold Engelson, Mune Patrick and Lloyd Jones will appear on the front line of attack.

Bob Kruse Throws Velcoff in South

San Francisco, Jan. 13.—Bob Kruse, 212, Portland, Ore., made short work of Nick Velcoff, 200, Bulgaria, here yesterday evening after each had won a fall in the main event of the wrestling program. It required but thirty seconds for Kruse to throw Velcoff with a body slam. He previously had won the first fall in twenty-two minutes with a double lock, while Velcoff won the second in nine minutes with a Joe hold.

Battalion Thinks He Can Still Make Weight For Bout

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Bat Battalino of Hartford, Conn., whose right to the featherweight championship of the world was declared void by the New York Athletic Commission, but who remains, the National Boxing Association considers, still thinks he can make 126 pounds.

The New York commission vacated its title last week when Battalino failed to make the division limit for a title match with Lew Feldman. He has notified Nate Lewis, Chicago stadium matchmaker, that he is ready to post a $5,000 forfeit for a title match here next month, preferably with Earl Mastro of Chicago.

Toronto, Jan. 13.—Toronto Maple Leafs defeated Detroit Falcons, 7 to 4, in a free-scoring N.H.L. game here yesterday evening with only a sensational display of goal tending by Connell of Detroit preventing the score from mounting higher.

The Leafs scored three goals in the first period and four in the third, Detroit getting one in the first, another in the second and two in the final.

One of the features was the smart performance of Lewis, Detroit forward, who at times appeared the best man on the ice.

Aurie Young, Smith and Kilrea got Detroit's tallies, with Carson, Goodfellow and Aurie assisting. The first Falcon score was a fluke one, Finnigan hitting Aurie's shot past Chabot. Jackson got two goals for the Leafs, with Day, Horner, Clancy and Levinson all scoring once.

Wheat Prices Gain Fractionally After Earlier Weakness

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Jan. 13.—Scattered buying overcame weakness in Liverpool wheat prices and wheat came out of the grain pit here 10-15¢ higher at the close.

May closed 1/4¢ higher at 63, while July improved 1/4¢ at 64. Firmness in the stock market was noted in the future, while reports of rain in the Argentine which will delay movement of grain, added to the constructive

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)
Winnipeg, Jan. 13.—Wheat: The market continued stagnant again to-day with nothing of feature and little otherwise going on, prices about 1/4¢ lower than the first period when there was a little scattered liquidation by third holders based on cables being weaker than due, but offerings quickly dried up and with a little buying against the daily bids and with firmness in Chicago combined with decided strength in New York stock market.

The local market reacted and prices advanced to 1/4¢ over previous close. However, there was no business, export sales out of this market being little but sentiment appears to be a little more friendly due to the better showing made by the stock the past week and in anticipation of an improved foreign demand, which is expected to develop shortly, as there are some inquiries in the market.

The market is at a standstill awaiting developments with neither selling nor hedging. The cash market was practically dead with no demand for anything. The only wheat coming out is an odd farmer's car which is being taken by terminals and all spreads were unchanged.

Weather is stormy and cold over most of the wheat belt, but no damage to the wheat crop is anticipated as most of the crop now has a good snow covering.

Winnipeg futures closed 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher.

Coarse Grains—These markets held firm but were extremely dull. Offerings were almost nil but the demand was very thin with prices more or less following wheat and outside markets.

No feature whatever and no export reported.

Oats closed 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher; barley 1/4¢ higher, and rye 1/4¢ lower.

Flax unchanged.

Liverpool due 1/4¢ higher based on Winnipeg.

And Rail Bonds

Lead Strong Rally

Canadian Press

New York, Jan. 13.—Wall Street gained further encouragement to-day from one of the strongest bond mar- kets witnessed in months.

Led by United States Government bonds, which rallied from fractions of a point, virtually all classes of securities joined in the upward movement.

Railroad mortgages staged a buoyant advance.

Interest in the carrier mortgage was accentuated by the meeting to-mor- row in Chicago of the rail executives and union leaders who have been empowered to negotiate to a conclusion the question of wage reductions.

In the scramble for some of the rails, Nickel Plate jumped 12 points to a new high of 41 for the year.

Most of the utilities and industrial stocks, however, were steady, al- though more hesitant, registering moderate gains. The foreign section was firm.

Stocks rising three to six included American Telephone, American Can, U.S. Steel, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco, B. Liggett and Myers, B. Eastman, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, and others. Stocks up two or more in- cluded Southern Pacific, New York Central, Woolworth, Consolidated Gas, DuPont, National Biscuit, Coca Cola, Westinghouse and others. General Electric, General Motors and Standard of New Jersey, were among shares up a point or so.

To-day's stock sales by Logan & Bryan: Allied Chemical 30,000, American Can 9,000, American Tobacco 12,700, Bendis Aviation 8,300, Bethlehem Steel 15,100, Case 3,300, Chrysler 40,000, Electric Power and Light 8,400, General Motors 3,900, Kroger 2,400, Kennecott Copper 8,900, International Telephone 13,800, Johnson & Johnson 12,000, Kaiser Steel 12,000, North American 19,000, Radio Corp. 83,100, United Air- craft 40,500, U.S. Steel 91,800, Wor- thington 5,400, Westinghouse 31,400, Win- nington 3,400, Auburn 97,700, McKesson 4,900.

Both Mr. Justice Murphy and the B.C. Court of Appeal decided that the statute is ultra vires.

Farrell to Retire AS HEAD OF STEEL

New York, Jan. 13.—James Farrell, president of United States Steel Cor- poration, is expected to retire from the company, after having served for 15 years as its president.

Mr. Farrell made the announcement of his retirement at his Fifth Avenue home here.

He said he would continue to occupy a place on the corporation's board of directors. His successor as president of the world's largest steel concern has not been named.

Mr. Farrell's retirement came within a few weeks after another leader in American industry, Patrick Edward Crowley, announced his retirement as president of the New York Central Railway.

Mr. Farrell, at sixty-eight, is only a few months older than Mr. Crowley.

Farrell's retirement had been expected for next year, for then he would have reached the age at which the pension plan of the U.S. Steel Corporation requires retirement.

Seventy years, Mr. Farrell will reach that age February 15, 1933.

The pension plan gives annually to the retiring executives one per cent of the average salary for the last ten years, multiplied by the number of years of their service. The plan was approved by the stockholders meeting at Hoboken, N.J., last April.

Oliver Baldwin Declares Gold Standard Error

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 13.—The gold standard of currency is a "colossal myth" which has been created by the gold standard advocates, Oliver Bal- dwin, son of Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council in Great Britain, said in an interview here yesterday.

"The whole currency system is un- mathematical, in fact, ludicrous, and unless it is changed, will result in revolution as Marx, the originator of Socialism, prophesied," Mr. Baldwin said.

"The way it works is obviously im- possible. Every possible penny is turned into production, which is so accelerated and increased that con- sumption, from which currency has been taken, cannot keep pace."
